Coming ahead

Reinforcement

- Experimental testing of older AASHTO Type II bridge girders with corrosion damage at the ends
- Global experimental response of a three-story, full-scale precast concrete shear wall structure with reinforcing bars spliced by grouted couplers
- Effects of grout and energy-dissipating bar properties on a Type III grouted seismic connection for precast concrete structures

Also

- Pull-out behavior of headed anchors used in a totally prefabricated counterfort retaining wall system
- Meet Timothy Salmons
