An exclusive productivity and quality improvement event

THE TOUR TEAM wants to cultivate innovation and offer active learning environments to PCI's younger members—and what better way to do that than by offering a limited number of Tour scholarships to Gen Next Leaders? The scholarship will cover the registration fee, and we ask the employers to pick up travel expenses and hotel charges.

We are looking for plant personnel who are 30 years old or younger, with five years' experience working in the same facility, who want to learn and become leaders within their organizations and, ultimately, our industry as a whole.

We are asking the scholarship applicants to email a 200-word essay or a two-minute video on why they want to attend and what they hope to take away from the event. All submissions must be sent directly to TheTour@pci.org by July 11. We will advise the winners by July 19.

If you have any questions, email us at TheTour@pci.org.
